

I bought a XM radio for the no commercial music, as i drive in my vehicle sometimes 2 to 4 hours daily.... I cannot tell you the last time i listened to regular broadcast radio...

Regular Broadcast radio has become so boring, it seems every hour you hear the same "power rotation" and the same ads... Most stations are 2 songs to 4 ads ratio.... I listen to the radio to hear music and programming, not 30 minutes of ads an hour

Recently i was made aware that the NAB would like to keep XM from being able to broadcast on-demand traffic and weather.... This is just a last ditch effort from the old broadcast radio industry to keep one last grip on the massive hemorrhage that they are losing by not appealing to the consumer...

My area is not served by XM's traffic and weather stations, but i still feel that XM has the right idea... the traffic and weather stations not only tell you verbally what the weather is like, but it comes up on my display that "Orlando - Sunny 85"

I can listen to a broadcast station during rush hour and in 25 minutes, NEVER hear a traffic report or CURRENT weather. When i want to know the traffic I want to know NOW!!!

Keep local programming on XM, tell the NAB to get with the times.
